Ron: Good luck in the future.

John Cameron

Roses are red violets are blue I copied your
U.S paper and I flunked
too. "NOT REALLY" See ya
next year. Bob Broughton

Dear Girls,
Just a quick note to tell you
how much I enjoyed your letters.
Sorry I had to sit outside in such an awful mess. What a drag,
Just kidding, it's been a good year. Have fun this summer and stay out of trouble.
See you next year. P.S. Heard there was a girls school that you and your friends went to last summer. Is it true?

"Thoughts"...the common treasury of the human mind.

The memories of
tears,
laughter,
and the emotions
of a long unforgotten year
are passing through our minds...

The thoughts of vivid days,
and questioning faces,
and the dreams that were real.

The years of education are
the foundation of life.

Ron;
I wish you the best of luck and hope to see you next year.
Rick.

Best of luck to a very nice guy. Your friend and mine

La Trouble

It is September:

a month of promises.

We have come to gain knowledge

that will last a lifetime.

And to construct

all the necessary parts...

to create a unit of one

and learn of new ideas.

...Our young eyes

are on the stars

and on the man

who can bring them nearer.

Ron,
Take it real easy this summer
we see you next year. Young and life as you stay active

Dan McGee

School Spirit

represents a symphony of color

which combines the student body

and creates an individual personality

for each pupil.

Knowledge

is a battle of the mind

to control itself;

to build up structures

in what we believe.

It is time to create;

a paper,

a research project,

a painting,

a better way of saying

what needs to be said

...a new thought.

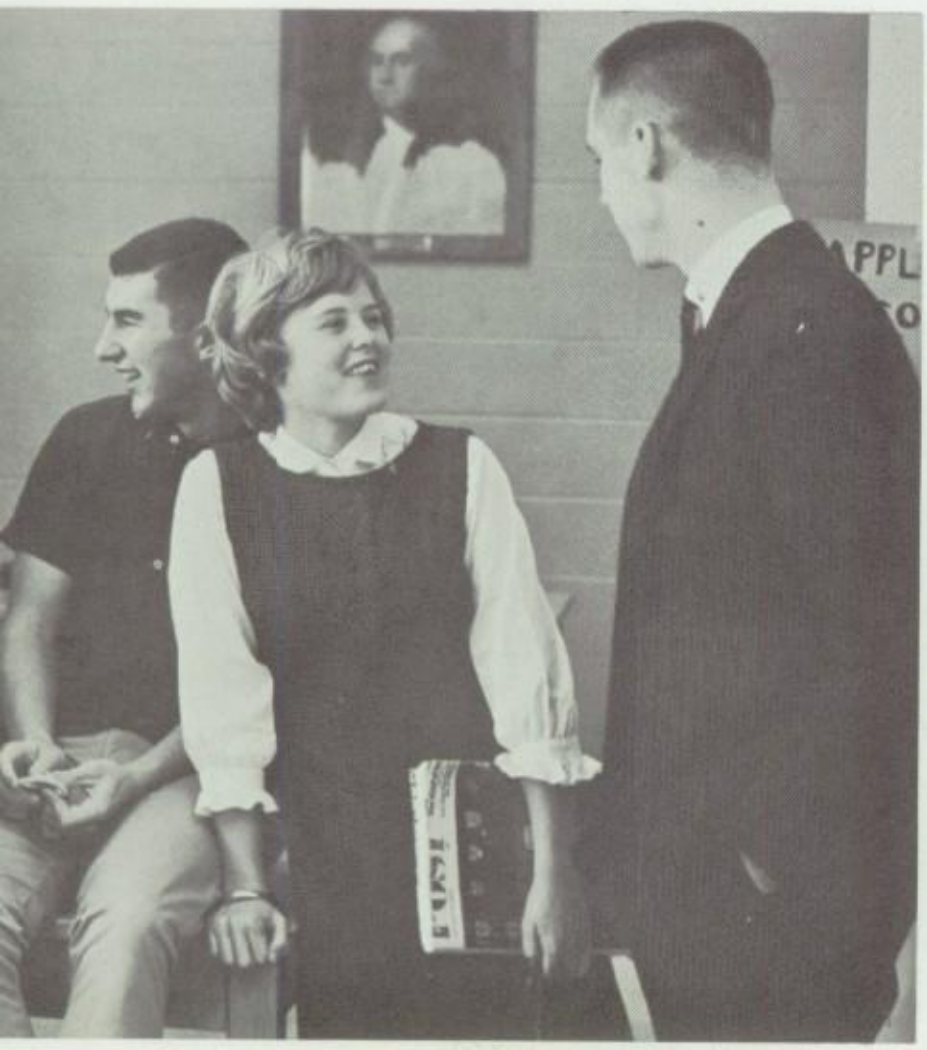
It is time to think,

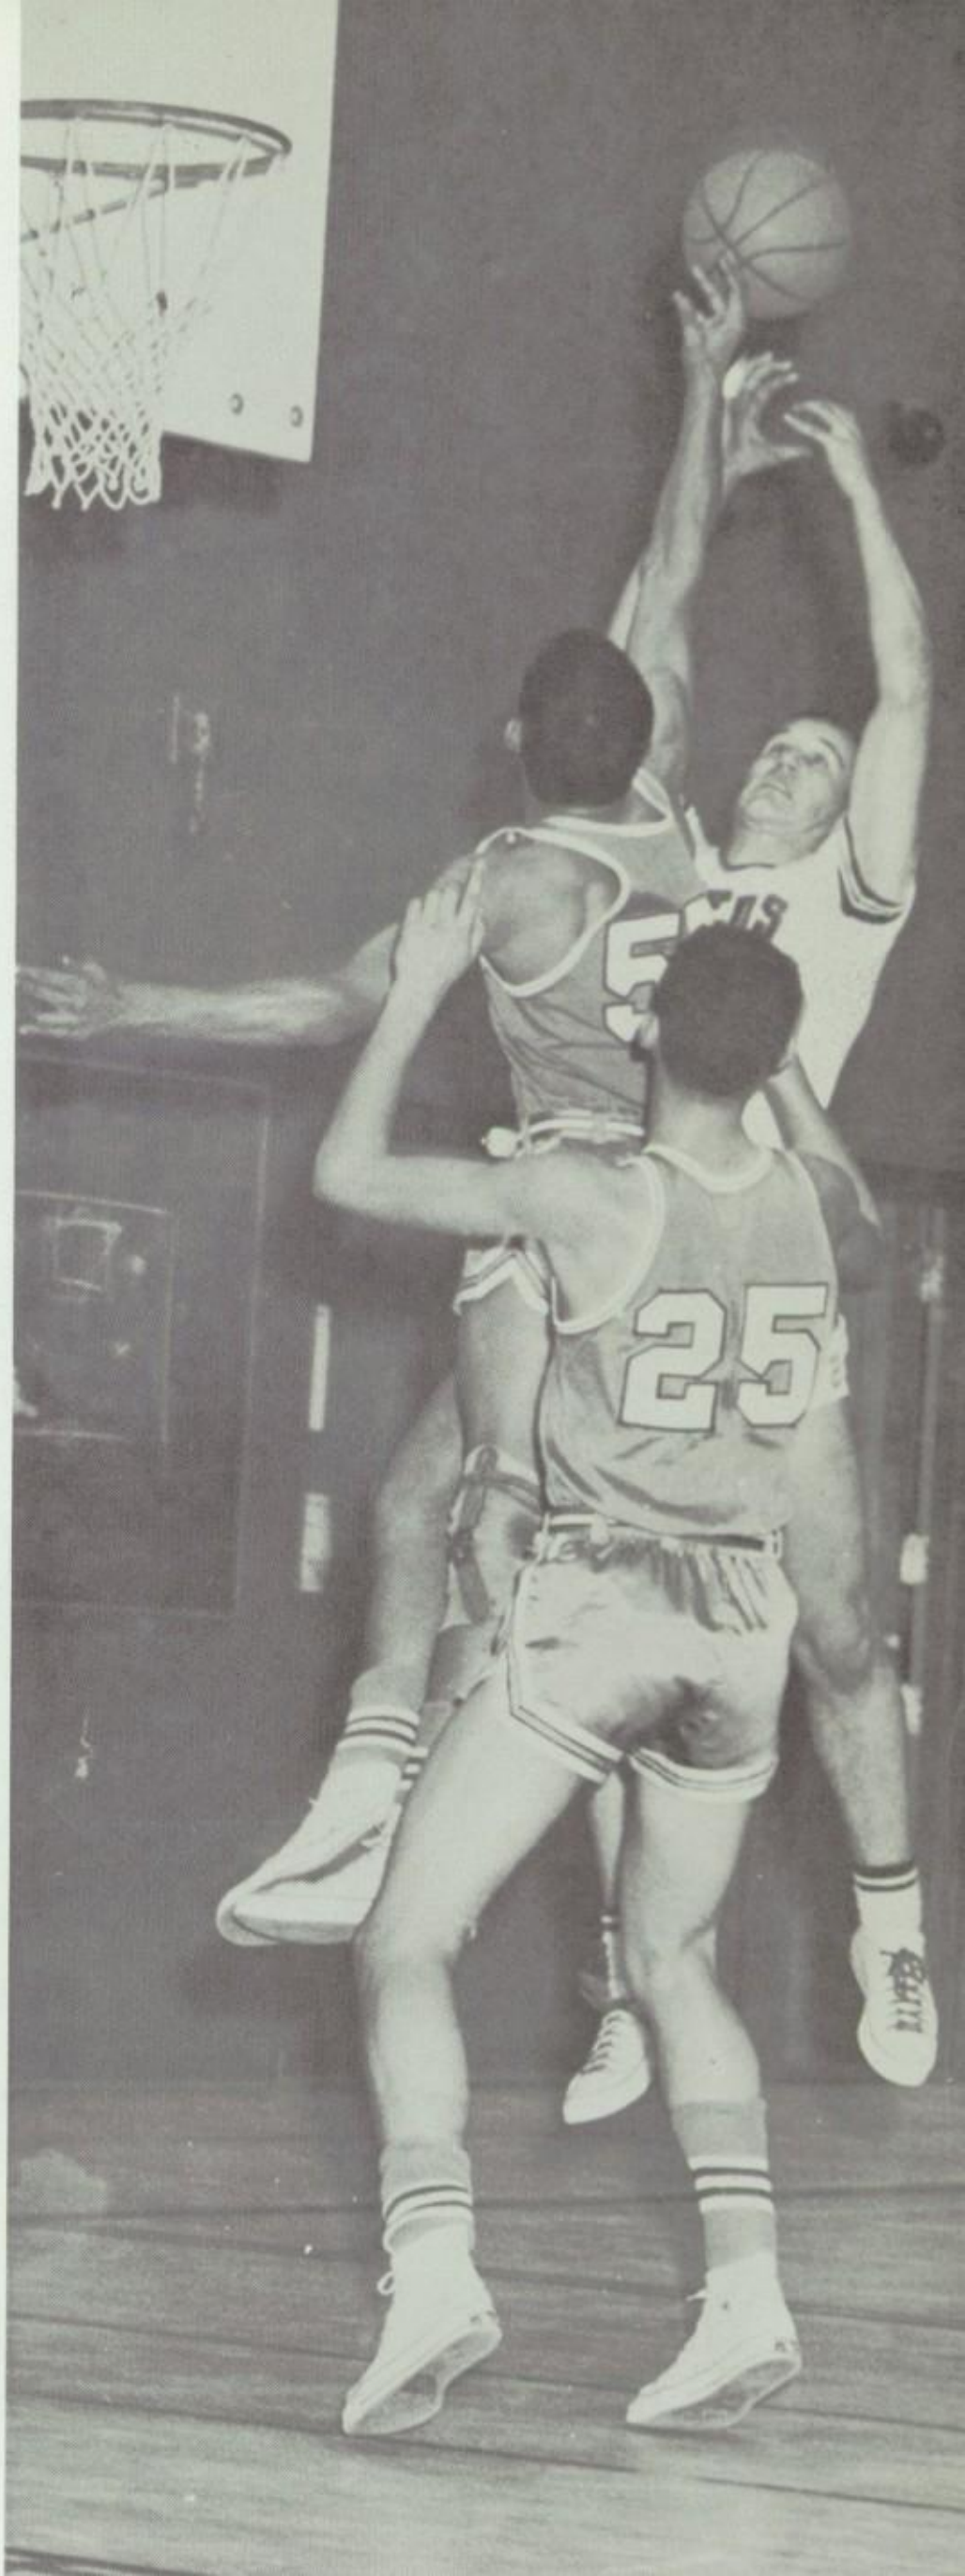
to accept ideas,

to blend with your own,

to become your own...

In this period of basic training.





Our high school can give each student
the benefit of all its facilities—
but the end result
is up to each student.

It is time to study,

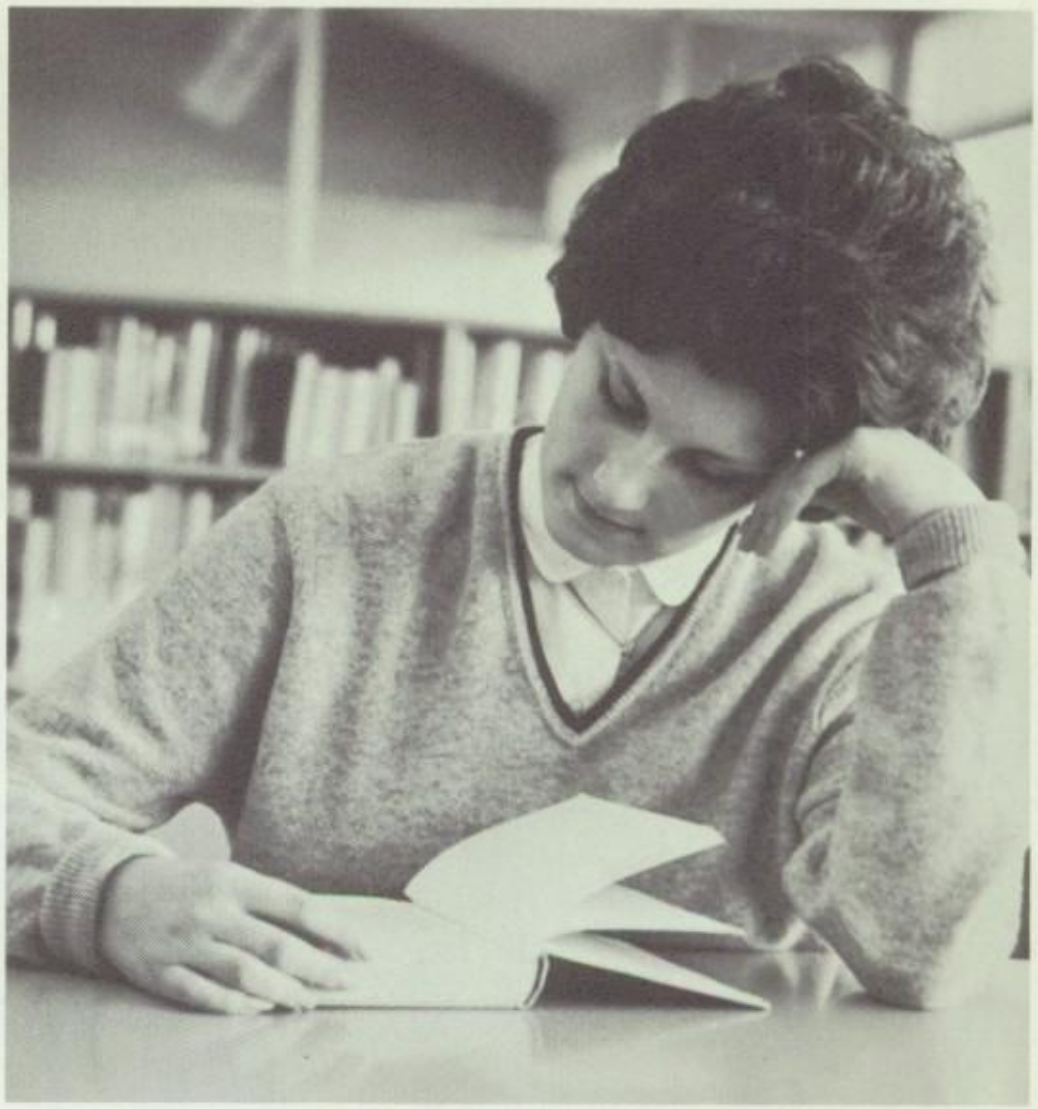
to read,

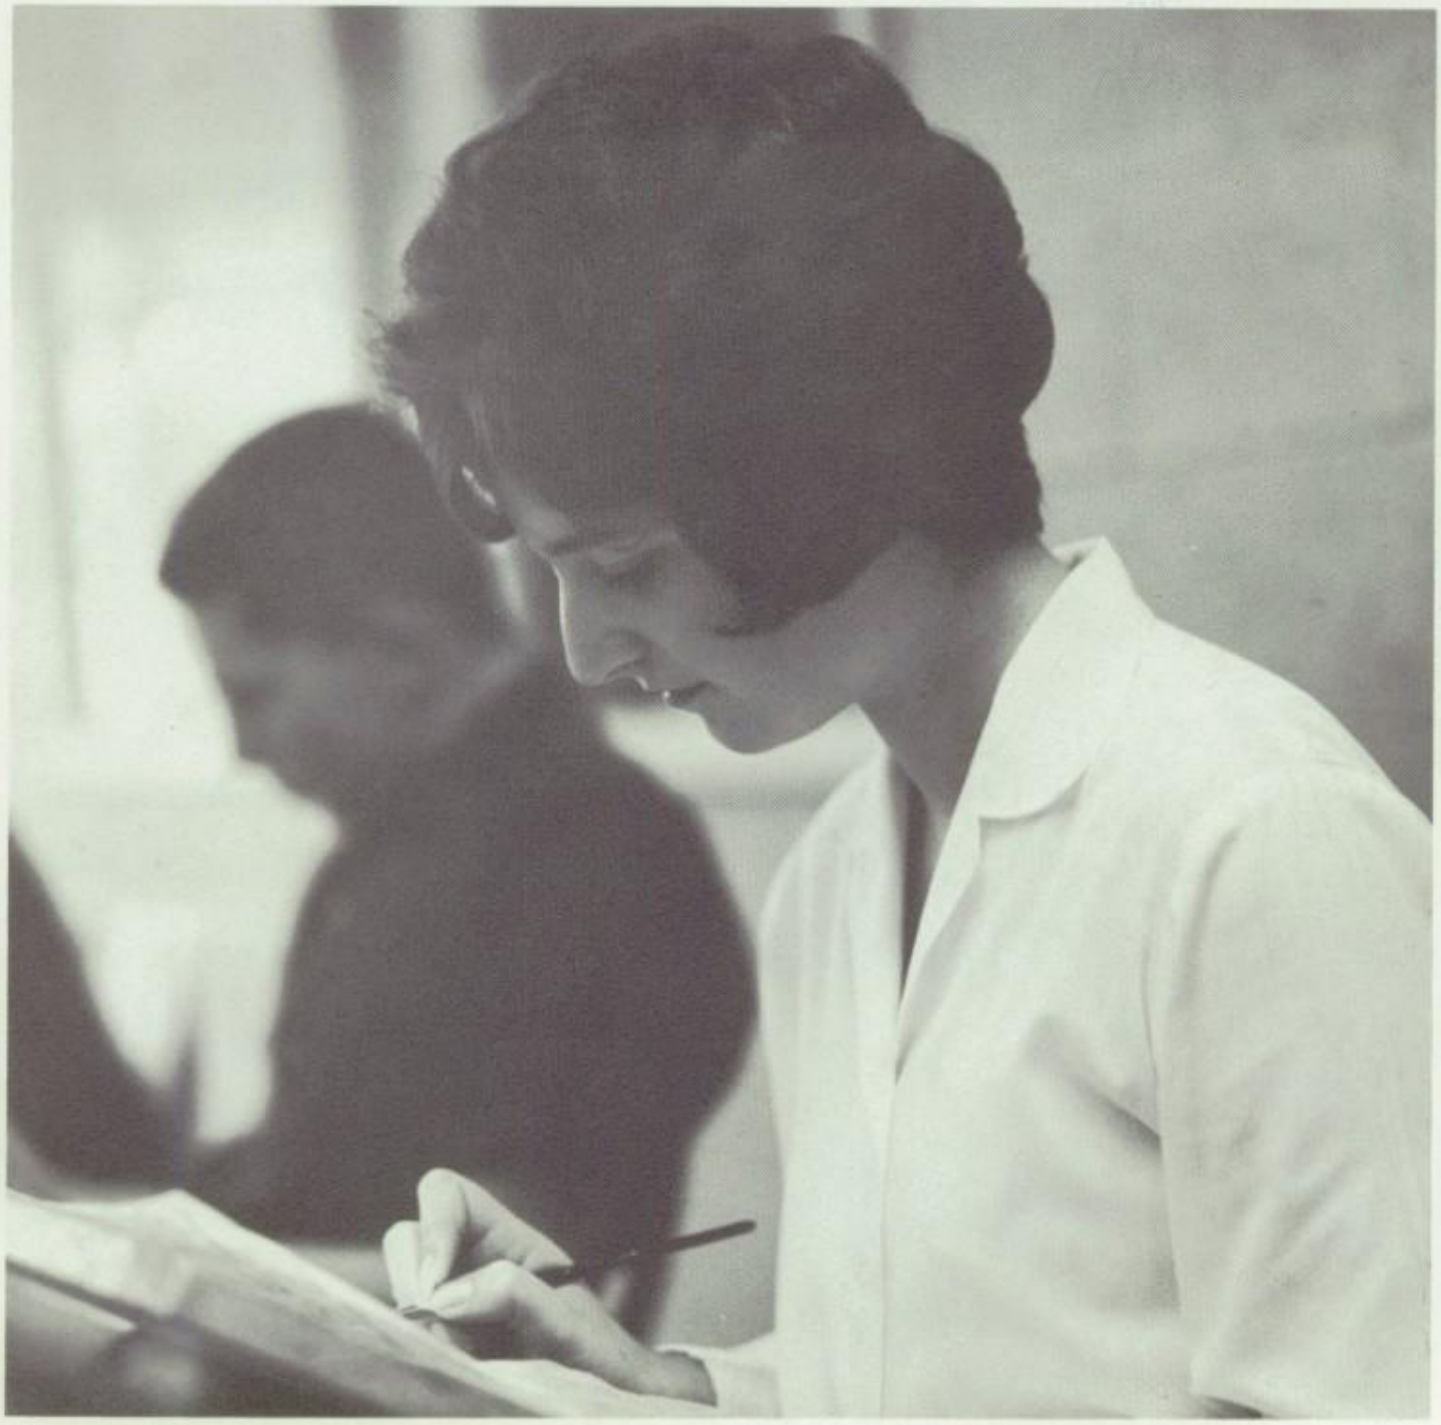
to interview,

and time to become aware

that our after hours vocation

will become our tomorrow.





And after graduation

we will walk the hallways

of our past...

remembering what has influenced

our pattern of life...

realizing what will occur

in the coming years.

Dear Ron; Stop being such a brain in bookkeeping! your making me feel bad — how about you in your future years to come Best Wishes & Good Luck At Sealth — Lots of luck always; Linda

But we must always remember...

the final measure of man's achievement is not the fame he has found nor the goals he has won.

It is rather his success

to guide, inspire and combine his efforts

for the good of all mankind.

"The melancholy days are come; the saddest of the year . . ." Bryant.

The time of graduation is a sad one but we have many memories to look back on. Our last year—our Senior year—has been full of exciting Senior activities. The sittings for our Senior pictures came first followed soon after by the sale of our Senior pins. Remember the excitement? The Senior breakfast was something to remember, too, with its Parisienne theme. "Arsenic and Old Lace" was the title of our Senior play with Sandi Miller and Sylvia Clarke as the main characters. Being asked to the Senior Prom was the dream of every girl. And why not with such a promising theme? Who could ever forget the Senior Trip and the fun we had. The most exciting and most longed for event of the year was our commencement! What Senior does not dream of this? The Baccalaureate service is another event which will never be erased from our minds. It was an exciting and rewarding year.

School spirit has prospered greatly due to the enthusiasm of the great Class of "64."

The year began with a pep assembly which was sponsored by the Juniors and enjoyed by all. The traditional Cheering Chalice came next on the agenda. The Juniors won it. It was held in the stadium and something new was added: a twist contest among the varsity football players.

"Winter Shangri-la," the Junior Dance, was held on December 15 and was well enjoyed by the 250 couples which attended.

Later the Junior Class provided the publicity for the All School Play, "The Silver Whistle."

To end the year the Juniors went to their utmost to provide the seniors with a very happy and memorable commencement, prom, etc.

Under the skilled leadership of our advisor, Mrs. Lucas, the Junior Class has experienced a successful year and will soon become the "Mighty Seniors."

The class of 1965 has shown much school spirit and enthusiasm this year.

The class began the year by the election of their class officers. The Sophomores also chose their class color, flower, and motto.

In December the Sophomores sponsored the annual Can Food Drive. The collection of a grand total of over 9,300 cans proved to be the largest drive ever held.

In February the annual Sophomore dance was held. The dance, which had an amusement park theme, was termed a big success by all those who attended.

"My thoughts and I were...

...of another world."

Johnson

A. T. Van Devanter, Principal; Max Starcevich, Vice Principal

Thoughts and ideas — these are the building blocks of civilization.

We sometimes forget the significance of ideas. The material aspects of our culture — great bridges, space ships, complex computers and the like — so overwhelm and divert our attention that we lose sight of the ideas that make them possible. Nevertheless, the thought back of the physical structure is the important thing. The bridge, the space ship or the computer, if destroyed, can be rebuilt. However, once the basic idea supporting one of these contraptions is lost, it may be gone forever.

That the essential ingredient of our heritage is composed of great ideas from the past is accepted by a great many people who still hesitate to accept new ideas. It should be obvious that all the great ideas were once new and strange — that all the great thoughts were once the object of someone's ridicule.

This knowledge, that even the greatest and best ideas of mankind often met with opposition and laughter when they were new, should make us cautious about rejecting new ideas without prior examination.

You should never laugh at a new idea — not even your own. A young person particularly is apt to reject his own ideas because he is afraid to expose himself to ridicule. The lack of self-confidence that youth has had in its own ideas has no doubt resulted in the loss to civilization of ideas of incalculable worth.

A young person may well be afraid to expose to ridicule "that gleam of light which flashes across his mind from within" but he should not dismiss the idea. Far better to jot it down and examine it from time to time in the light of added experience. As Emerson says: "In every work of genius we recognize our own rejected thoughts."

The class of '66 has had many special projects throughout the year. The clothing drive, which came early in the year was handled by our class and was very profitable. The clothes were distributed to needy families throughout Seattle.

Hi-Day, another project of the Freshman Class, extended friendliness and school spirit throughout the student body. The biggest event for the class of '66 was the Freshman Dance, which proved to be a big success.

The goal of our class was to promote school spirit and cooperation among the students.

In all, the class of '66 has had a very successful year.
